Special Nature to Business Men. butters communication between the buyer and seller; i's large y increasing circulation, both at home and abroad, offers a taverable opportunity for a judicious disserination of mercantile intel- principle. ce. It is also a favorite family journal, honco wonte, mechanics and citizens will find its e lnes essectial to prosperous business. It stands at the head of one of the great parties of the country, reaching thousands that no other medium does reach. I we that the "Fail Campaign" is drawing apon us, we hope they will not which surpassanything in its former history.

They liate the Repeal of the Missouri Compremise We do not wonder that the Know-Nothings brought about an alarming crisis. But the truth is, is bas in orf red sadly with their designs and purposas; and when they look over their scattered pany it is found in, Seward, Wade, Wilson & Co. and divided forces, and reflect that the slavery question did it, they feel very vicious toward the repeal of the Missouri compromise. It excites the most viperous indignation. They met in Philadelphia in June, 1850, and rejuised in brotherly affection, until the territorial questi n came up, when they passed a twelfth section and exploded. to unive them together, but it split them into cuptles parcels. They brought forth a Presidential ticket, and split up n it. All these misortunes are secribed to that horrid Nel racka-Kansas bill. The White House and the millions somed up belore the enraptured vision of Sam's hists, but there stood in the path that monstrous slavery question, whose forbidding aspect struck error into the ranks, and subdued the prowess of the mighty Sam. Divided and distracted, indeed were the Know-N things. In 1854, ninety sworn erethren were elected to Congress, but in 18 30 mly three; alas, only three from the North could se asknowledged by the brethren in this latitude. Whit there is a Sam, there is likewise a Sambo: and the latter tas grown robust and unmanageable. Na.s, in his present fallen estate, would bill. It has made sad work with all his calculations. No wonder ho shakes his fet and grits his teeth, when he thinks how his hopes were crushed. He had a fortune of power and pelf within his grasp, but it vanished before the nigger in the

in it the cause of all his calamities. We insist slavery quertion made Sam what he was, and has all Sambo's triumpts. It was Sambo's columns that beat the Dom cratic legions in 1854, not Sam's. Had Know-Nothingism stood alone in the free States, it would have been spurned by every one of them, and would never have found a lodg. ment in the South. The success in the free States inspired the ambitious hopes of stranded poliicians, and they made the experiment. They need not, therefore, blame any action on the Nebraska Eannas bill.

It is equa"y idio to enppose, that the repeal of the Missouri compromise made the contest about Kansas. That Territory borders on Missouri, and when it came to be settled, the question of slavery would have obtruded itself in spite of Congress. The people, when they come to make a State constitution, will have slavery or not, as they please; and men will go to a territory that is convenient with their siaves, in spite of restrictions; as they went to Onio, Indiana, and Illinois. This the Abolitionists forelaw; and they raised the shrick before the Missouri compromise was mentioned in the Senate. They issued the circular to rally heir forces, before it was proposed to say anything about the Missouri compromise in the bill. The Know-Nothings, then, went their spite idly. The repeal of the Missouri compromise did not a free or slave State, and the people, when they me to form a constitution, would have had the ithetanding anti-slavery provises. The Abeliionists all know this, and although they raised ie cry of repeal, they did not attempt it. They idn't want the Missouri compromise restored; it ake, by the direct action of Congress, Kansas a roo State. This was their aim, and they would have had the same purpose, and would have puraed it by the same means, if the Missouri comomise had not been repealed. No more slave tates, is the cry. No further extension of The Know-Nothing faction, then, need not rail at the repeal of the Missouri compromise, or gnash ir tooth at the slavery question. If it has unde them, it also made them. They can't mange it; it manages them. They have set themves up against the repeal of the Missouri comm expediency, stimulated by mere party spiter re apt to act indiscreetly. Kentucky is herself of the parties to the repeal of the Missouri promise; her representatives, Whige and Derats, all voted for it, and their constituents all of pure party manufacture, against the interests arty wire-pullers need not expect to turn a maed partisans. There is not a tythe of the now-Nothing voters in Kentucky who would not we resented the charge, that they were opposed n, what they might have to come to at the ding of these Northern allies. Behold them fat assertion. We defy anybody to beat that.

The Kunw-Nothing Scheme for Sui-

Mr. Crittenden, who is, perhaps, the most distinguished comber of the American party in the sanate of the United States, proposed to repeal the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and the laws complained of in Kensus, and invest the Governor and judges of the Territory with the law-making power. The Secretary of the Territory was to transmit tisements of Public Meetings, Masonic, Odd Fellows.

Fremen's, &c., are charged fifty cents persquare of the Secretary of the Territory was to transmit the acts of those legislators to Congress for the cents each subsequent in section.

Advertisements of Situations Wanted, Beligious, Charitable, Marriage, and Obituary Notices, of five lines or less, are charged twenty-nive cents each interiory. A protion was made to by the scheme Territory. A motion was made to lay the scheme on the table; and here is the vote:

Look at the vote for this proposition; three South Americans, Crittenden, Bell, and Thompwhat they went. They all voted for it, of course; for it was a complete surrender of the contest.

This is, moreover, a repudiation of the Knew Nothing platform—the one last made at l'biladelphia. It guarantees to the people of the Terriory the right to regulate their own domestic and social affairs; here is a proposition to take all the power out of their hands, and allow them no veize in shaping their own institutions, for an indefinite time; or until Congress-soveral hundred factionists, perhaps, may, in 'indness, if they think the people will make institutions to suit them, a! ow the people to come in as a State.

The cliter of the organ had an article yesterday morning railing at Judgo Lecompte, of Kansas, He pretends that under his instructions men have been indicted for making a Constitution and p tition og Congress to admit Kansus as a State. The burning and phizzing globules were scattered charge is that these man are of only, by concerted all over the free States, blazing, and snapping, and Lecempto he given no such instructions. The en looling, as they went. The fragments were attracted together a second time partially. They purples; that they have been employing force to that end This is the constructive treason. and it is trees a by the decision of the higher trionnals, by which Judge Locampto is bound. The editor rants against constructive transci as if he knew what he was writing about, whereas he shows that he is as ignorant as an ass of the facts as well as the law. The fact is, that the attempt to make a new Constitution was accompanied by a threat that they would carry resistance to a bi oly issue, and there is abundant proof of it. That, however, is not the cause of additment; but c neerted resistance to the exacution of the law, not a single act, but acts in pursuance of an organized scheme of residence general. These are the crimes for which iniic ments are found under the Judge's instrutions, and the in tractions were were thing, a me willingly place himself under the pretection of have sid, to the decisions of higher curts; and Sambo, but he sees an angry looking face South, There is no such thing as constructive true of of curre ladge L rompte had no discretion. Who but a court scall say what is lovying was at it he only shows his own ignerance, and not that of Judge Lecompto. But having misstated the fact and expect his ignorance of the law, he then, with high complacency, begins to denounce the court after the fashien of a dork republican higher-law ind'vidual. In iga Lacompte is not a Precediler, that is his offence. He has not succumbed to the higher law, but has simply done his duty as a judge, under a law not of his make, but made by higher tribunals. In that he has given mortal effence to the Abelitionist, and to the editor of the Journal. How far it may be expedient to carry the execution of the law, is not a matter of the Julge's discretion. Some of the ring-leaders of this Kansas war, and revolution, in fact, deserve to be hung; but we presume when peace is restored they will save their necks, which have been ferfeited; as it is the peace of the country, and not vengeance, that is the President for dismissing the employees at the them. After their effort to deprive him of the means to pay them, and their success in it, they rail at him for giving them immediately an illustration of their policy. Didn't the faction intend that the employoes of the government should be dismissed? What else was their object? The knaves deliberately vote to deprive the President of the means of paying the employees, and then rail that he dismissed them. They had better thank the President for scaring them out of their folly and wickedness, whilst they had an opportunity to back out. All the men at Washington know that the shrickers were badly frightened, ower to make it a slave State if they chose, not- and greatly rejoiced when they were bester. The minnies not posted up needn't rail. The was, that the scales cheated the owner, not his country understands it.

> condition of the country, and don't know what to do—have no remedy for our troubles to propose we tender them a piece of advice that will save them a great deal of uscless expense and trouble, and we don't charge them a cent for it. Lot them retire from politics. They are only in the way with their croakings, and the country doesn't need them at all. The question of slavery will be settled better without them. All they propose is, to give up the whole question to the Northern Abolitionists. That expedient can be adopted at any time. It is all we can lose by the entire sucoass of the Abolitionists. Retire, then, from the field; you can come with a surrender when the fight is over. It will be time enough then.

As the Know-Nothing craters and scribblers claim that Fillmore will carry several States that they name, some gantlemen proposo to test their faith in these States. They offer to bet: 1st. Fifty dollars that Fillmore will be hind-
